NOTE.

The collection of Paintings included in this Catalogue is one of the most valuable and important ever offered at auction in Boston. Many of the pictures belong to a private collection, and are sold as the owner closes his house and goes to Europe for an indefinite season. Others of the paintings are consignments on which advances have been made, and are sold to close accounts. The best phases of European art are well represented, and the American works are choice pictures by prominent artists.

All pictures have been critically examined by experts, and can be guaranteed as catalogued.
